

Federico Prades Prize for Young Economists AEB Foundation IV Edition 2024

This award is in recognition of the contribution made by Federico Prades, from the AEB's research department, to economic and banking analysis.

The prize is worth 20,000 euros.

Bases of the 2024 call

- 1 The prize will be awarded to research work carried out by researchers who must be under 40 years of age on 31 December 2023, whether submitted individually or as part of a team.
- 2 The topics of the research or study should be on subjects that contribute to a better understanding of the contribution of financial institutions to the improvement of the economy and people's living conditions.
- 3 Papers, which may be submitted in Spanish or English, must meet the following requirements:
 - They will have a maximum length of 20,000 words.
 - They should be sent to the following e-mail address:
premiofedericoprades@fundacionaeb.esThe deadline for receipt of research papers is 6 September 2024.
- 4 The complete rules and the call for applications can be consulted on this link in the website of the Spanish Banking Association. Any queries can also be sent to the following e-mail address:
premiofedericoprades@fundacionaeb.es
- 5 The prize-winner(s) must collect the Prize in person as a sine qua non condition for its receipt and comply with the obligations established in the terms and conditions of the prize.
- 6 The Jury will issue its decision during the month of November 2024.